

THE 2007 INDUSTRY STATEMENT
OF THE
BSIA, IPCRes, NSI & SSAIB
ON THE CONTINUING IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW OR REVISED EUROPEAN INTRUDER ALARM STANDARDS

The introduction of new or revised European Standards or Technical Specifications in the EN 50131 series for intruder alarm systems continues to be a challenge to the Industry.

Having regard to delays in the continuing development of other European draft standards in the family of the EN 5013X series, and in the interests of stability for the industry and its clients, the following statement has been prepared:

It has been agreed that the adoption of BS EN 50131-1:2006 by the industry will be deferred until further notice.

The above industry statement is approved by ACPO and ACPOS.
